THE RAYMOND LION

The new Zone Chairman, Jay Hamilton, of Magrath, called the first meeting of the year in Cardston. At eight o'clock the Caboon Hotel served a delicious chicken supper for the representatives from each club. The president and the secretary from each club was introduced to the group. Cardston, Bill Matson and Reed Card; Glenwood, Jim Prince and Bert Codd; Magrath, George Hamilton and John Steele; Raymond, Arleld Hill and Leon Harker; Hillspring, Secretary Louis Skipworth. The chairman had each club report on their objectives for the present year. A very full slate of activities is in store for these southern towns.

The projects for each community is very interesting. Cardston plans to finish the Lions Swimming Pool this year and continue with their Lions Play Party at the dam site of the Belly River. They now have a camp kitchen, a baseball diamond, a softball field, and some kiddies equipment. This club has pledged to lay more sidewalks to the new school. Glenwood is still deeply involved in building their Lions Community Hall. Raymond is planning to install another playground on the other side of town. They will again sponsor the Calf Club and carry the Stampede. With a possibility of joining the Harness Racing Circuit. Magrath have the heavy responsibility of maintaining and supervising their Lions Swimming Pool. They spent twelve hundred dollars on this project last year.

"What makes you so down-hearted? Your dog dead?"

"I just lost my girl."

"Oh, cheer up. There are other fish in the sea."

"Yeah? Well, this one took all of my bait."

High up in the Rocky Mountains there lived a little boy and his widowed mother. One day he had been rather severely punished and he ran to the edge of a precipice and shouted back at his mother "I hate you! I hate you!" He was rather surprised and ashamed when back across the ravine came a continued reply, "I hate you. I hate you. I hate you. I hate you." The mother took the child's hand and led him back to the edge of the gorge and said "Now, son call 'I love you' just as loudly as you shouted before." The boy reluctantly tried. Clearly and sweetly a voice replied from the canyon "I love you". "My boy, whatever you send out to the world will come back to you."

A railroad engineer got up on the wrong side of the bed one morning. The water in his shower was cold. He broke his shoelace. The toast of course must be burned. His car would not start and he finally frantically called a taxi—and make it snappy. He arrived at the railway yards late and in gone in the procedure, as they laboriously pushed the train to ninety miles an hour to catch up his schedule. He swung around a curve in the canyon and saw a freight train coming toward him down the same track. He heaved a big sigh, and turning to his fireman asked: "Did you ever have one of those days when everything just seems to go wrong?"

Did you ever stop to think that most of the people who work so hard to save face usually have the kind of face that is hardly worth saving?

Dan Holladay was a recent business visitor in Calgary.

A joint Second and Third Ward Men and Gleaner fireside met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Czar Fairbanks after church in honor of Max Lois Milner was the guest speaker.

Max Fairbanks Going To Tahiti

Max Fairbanks was honored at a farewell testimonial in the Third Ward on Sunday, prior to leaving for Tahiti on a mission.

Melvin King gave a very interesting talk after which Joe McLean sang a solo. Theodora Meeks lovely solo "The Stranger of Galilee" came between two more interesting speakers, Dick Kinsey and Jim Heninger, both recently returned missionaries. Max made a few remarks in appreciation of his wonderful opportunity.

Bruce Heggie of the Genealogical Committee presented the new missionary with the book "My Family Through the Ages."

Mrs. Marie Matkin and son Phillip are visiting in Great Falls at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Thomas this week.

The Raymond Curling Club has readied itself for the coming season with a fine time in store for the lovers of the slick sport.

The rinkers have been forme and the ice making and painting crews have been busy whipping things into shape for the grand opening on or about the first day of December. Incidentally we have been informed that there is still room for a few more curlers in the club.

Members of the Fourth Ward High Priests Quorum and their wives were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Card Thursday evening at which time Myron Holmes showed his beautiful slides of his recent trip east.

The William Wildes, Frank Hickes, Clarence Allreds, Andrew Waltons, Golden Snows, Ken Stones, Bruce Galbraiths, C. D. Petersons, T. T. Mendenhalls, Howard Perkes, T. George Woods, Heber Allen and Mrs. Annie Woolley and Mrs. Annie Selman were present to enjoy the impromptu talks, and the lovely lunch and visiting.

Vanita Vance is a patient in the local hospital where she underwent an appendicitis operation.

Hi School Capers

By Renae Rasmussen

The citizens of Raymond can stop wrinkling their brows in bewilderment at the bearded pards who have been roaming around lately. They were the contestants in the RHS "Beard Contest" For two weeks prior to the final day, the guys (students and teachers alike) have been sprouting it out among themselves for the Championship. When the final day did arrive last Friday, everyone gathered in the gym where the judging took place. Mrs. Laqua, Pat Strong and Janice West performed the judging ceremonies. Great pains were undertaken in the procedure, as they laboriously plucked a whisker from each unwilling contestant, then solemnly measured it with a tape. Last, as if

Mr. Derald Miller, with a beard of 1/4 inch was announced winner.

Runner-ups had growths of 3/8 to 1/4 inches. They were presented with a tube of shaping cream for their worthy efforts.

That Friday night, the Helcats and B Boys travelled to Stirling for the usual week-end basketball games. Our teams defeated the Stirling kids to capture the honors of the evening.

RHS Comets Defeat Hillspring Panthers

On Saturday night, November 24, the local high school Comets, members of the Southern Alberta "A" League, travelled to Hillspring to play an exhibition game with the Hillspring Panthers, well known Alberta "B" champs. The game started slow, but as it progressed the play speeded up considerably. An early lead, built up by Raymond, was soon torn down and passed by the hard-working Panthers. It took some time for the Comets to wake up to the fact that they were getting beaten, and by that time they were far behind. Hillspring retained their lead for the rest of the game and the final score was 51-41 in favor of the Panthers.

Highest scorer for the evening was Raymond's own Allen "Storkey" Tolstrup, who turned in a great game, netting 19 points. High scorer for Hillspring was Strate with 13 points.

On the preliminary Hillspring also showed their might by downing the Seminary Saints by a score of 41-27.

Gordon Ralph, who is stationed in Calgary with the R.C.A.F., was home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Ralph, over the weekend.

Fern Thompson Is New Legion Auxiliary President

Monday night was election night at the Legion Hall for the Ladies' Auxiliary when Mrs. Mary Thompson, who has been Legion President the past three years, and her officers, Alma Helgerson and Sally Hippard were reelected with a vote of thanks.

Fern Thompson will head the Auxiliary this year and her councillors and Hennie Hougen and Louie Winters with Ellene Philips and Wanda Veen, secretary and treasurer respectively, remaining in office another year. The new executive committee is made up of the following: Lanette Hellawell, Clayte Ralph, Alma Helgerson, Val Attwood, Alice Court and Frances Lund, although their respective duties have not yet been chosen.

Jack Mehew of the Legion, was present and gave a talk on welfare work and it was decided at this meeting to hold a Benefit Dance for one of the veterans.

The Legion Ladies' donation to the Legion Hall this year will be in the form of a coat of paint for the inside walls. Mrs. Flo McLean won the door prize donated by Mrs. Elsie Evans.

The busy evening included the tying of a quilt and the serving of a delicious lunch.

The L.A. are reminded of the Christmas party on Dec. 10th and gifts not exceeding the value of $1.00 is to be taken by each member.

Tuesday evening Vi Meeks was a special guest at the Second Ward Mutual where she showed films on Sports for their open evening. Among the sport films was one of the Sadie Hawkins Day race a couple of years ago which caused a good deal of merriment. Geneva Erickson led the group in a few camping songs prior to the meeting with the Garden City Council.

the first of December for the following year

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Peterson of Lethbridge, and daughter, were guests at the Harry Fairbanks home on Sunday.

Leslie Williams Weds Taylorville Girl

A wedding of interest took place in the Alberta Temple when Leah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Henry of Taylorville, and Leslie, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Williams of Raymond, were united in marriage.

A lovely reception was held in their honor at the Taylorville chapel. The bride was lovely in a white satin gown with long net and lace veil and complemented by a corsage of carnations and rose buds.

The room was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers and stars. A most beautifully decorated 3-tier cake was displayed on a linen covered table and was cut during the evening. Merlin Steed proposed the toast to the bride and the groom fittingly responded.

Mr. Dick Low was able master of ceremonies and a lovely program was enjoyed by all.

Friends and relatives here were given an opportunity to extend their best wishes to the newly wed. Friday evening when a Reception was held in the Second Ward Church.

The numerous gifts were accepted and arranged by Gladys Holt, Velma Bigelow and Alice Stevens. Mrs. Marie Smalnitsky presided at the Guest Book.

A tasty lunch was served the guests by Phyllis Pieplar, Connie Mehew, Margaret and Mary Rodeback and Gail Pieplar.

Dick Kinsey was the Master of Ceremonies for a short program consisting of recitations by Shirley and Myrna Williams, a solo by Velma Bigelow, a Reading by June Anderson and a solo by Marie Matkin.

Book Lovers Hold Annual Banquet

The Book Lovers' Score annual banquet and party with their husbands, was held Friday evening in the Legion Hall. After a sumptuous chicken supper with all the trimmings, Mrs. Frank Ball led the group in community singing with Emma Dahl at the piano.

Inez Hicken, the master of ceremonies, gave a very interesting history of the club. The first meeting was held 19 years ago February, in the old B of M building with Mrs. Kompton, the bank manager's wife, the first hostess. Mrs. Leech was the chairman of the first meeting and gave the first Book Review. Mrs. Viola Wing was the first president.

The name, The Book Lovers' is limited to 20. Mrs. Hicken went in past years and interesting items in past years and interesting items about them.

Rook was the next item on the agenda and Mrs. Frank Ball received a set of silver salt and pepper cellars for the top score and Mrs. Emma Dahl a crumb tray for consolation.

A very enjoyable time indeed was had by all.

Jim Grant has received the honor of being one of the two Bank of Montreal managers in Alberta to receive an invitation to attend the Bank's convention in Montreal next week. Mr. and Mrs. Grant left today (Thursday) by train in the company of Mr. and Mrs. Fairbairn of the B of M in Lethbridge for two weeks holiday as guests of the Bank.

A "Pot Luck" party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Rolfson Saturday evening. Rook was played with Beth Galbraith and Ted Meeks taking top score and Phyl Murray Holt consolation.

The lovely lunch was enjoyed at Dahl and Tommy Allen supplying the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Palmer have as their guest this week Mrs. Palmer's brother, LeRoy Garrett of Vancouver. On Sunday cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Layton of Lethbridge and brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Knowles, also of Lethbridge, were guests at the Palmer home as well.

Bob Graham Given Last Rites

Funeral services for the late R.T. "Bob" Graham were held in the Stake House Monday afternoon with many friends and relatives present to pay their last respects to Mr. Graham who passed away suddenly on Friday. The numerous floral tribute also bespoke the esteem held for the Graham family.

Bob Salmon conducted the service, and the choir under the direction of Joe McLean with Mrs. Emma Dahl at the organ sang "O My Father" after which Melvin King offered the opening prayer. "Lead Me Gently Home" was sung by a trio of vocalists, Mesdames Gen Hawkins, Laura Watson and Evelyn Melchin. President L. L. Palmer was the first speaker, telling of his long acquaintance with the family and speaking of the resurrection of Christ, after which Mr. and Mrs. Jim Harker sang "In the Garden". "Face to Face" was then sung by Gen Hawkins and Laura Watson followed by words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved family by T. George Wood. Joe McLean and Mrs. Ruth Salmon rendered the closing number "Beyond Today".

The benediction by Howard Melchin followed the hymn "Sometime We'll Understand" sung by the choir.

Aziel Stevenson offered the graveside prayer and pallbearers were Paul, Jack and Gil Evans, Rulon Dahl, Charles Ackroyd and Charles Bassett. Interment was in Temple Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Graham is survived by his wife, Charlotte, and ten children: Mrs. Nona Bourne of Lethbridge, Mrs. Laver Tolstrup of Coutts; Mrs. Ruth Swinney of Indian Head; Marguerite Graham of Calgary and Florence Sharline, Bobby, Wyona, Lynne and Laraine of Raymond; a brother, Frank Graham of Los Angeles and a sister, Mrs. Florence Hotze, of Long Beach, all of whom were in attendance. His father, C. F. Graham of Carson, Iowa and two sisters, Mrs. A. E. Baxter of Omaha and Mrs. Leora Chaney of Los Angeles, also mourn his passing.

Other relatives, Mrs. Margaret Graham of Lethbridge, Ted Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Derald Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Terrance Graham of Warner were also present for the funeral as well as the Harris, Mrs. Charlotte Grahams family.

A Special Message from your B of M manager...

IF I were asked to sum up the whole Canadian way of living in two words, I'd say: "Steady Progress". The people of this country seem to combine stability with a go-ahead spirit. This approach shows up in most things we do. Take Canada's first bank — my bank. We have just finished our 134th year, with assets of over two billion dollars. Our Annual Statement is typically Canadian in that it tells of substantial progress in terms of brass tacks rather than brass bands. Just three highlights will show you exactly what I mean:

DEPOSITS: Our 1,800,000 customers have $2,085,187,091 on deposit at 572 B of M branches across Canada. Some of this money belongs to business firms and institutions, but more than half of it is the savings of everyday people.

LOANS: Now at the highest year-end figure in the Bank's history, our loans amount to $646,368,336. Farmers, fishermen, ranchers and lumbermen borrowed a great deal from us, but we lent money to people in every walk of life and to business of every kind.

At that, we had to cut down on many loans we would ordinarily have liked to make, in order to co-operate with the Government in measures which are designed to combat inflation and help gear up Canada's economy for the defence program.

INVESTMENTS: At the year's end, the B of M had $976,950,829 of its depositors' money invested in high-grade government bonds and other public securities. These were listed in the Bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value. Our other securities represented mainly short-term credits to industry. The combined total amounted to $1,108,174,362.

Like Canada, her first bank has gone on from strength to strength in the past year. We believe in being strong because our main job is to protect people's savings. And we believe in encouraging people to save more, too.

In this, as in any other way we can, we are working with Canadians in every walk of life for the steady progress that will give us all a stronger, happier country.

Among the new books listed this week is "The Greatest Book Ever Written" by Fulton Oursler, a senior editor of Reader's Digest Magazine.

Mr Oursler gives as his reason for writing the book "The Holy Bible" is still the best-selling book of all time and in all countries, yet surprisingly few of the new generation seem to be familiar with its contents. The book contains maps by Rafael Palacios of the lands of the Old Testament.

RECLAMATION OF ARABIAN DESERTS

Efforts are being made in Saudi Arabia to extend the facilities of ancient irrigation systems by the use of modern irrigation techniques. However, water rights in this country are as intricate as the tunnels themselves which often cross one another at various levels and much of the government's trouble is to avoid infringing complex traditional customs. The new move is, however, important because agriculture in Saudi Arabia depends entirely on irrigation, and though the areas under cultivation are widely separated by desert, they can be extended by a more efficient distribution of water. Rains in the autumn and early winter, which are not allowed to escape into the salt mudflats on the coastal plain, will be controlled by dams.

PROVINCIAL CIVIL DEFENCE HEADQUARTERS

Work has started on a civil defence control headquarters for the Province of Alberta. The building will be of reinforced concrete and will provide reasonable protection for civil defence personnel.

This headquarters is situated in the West End of Edmonton and will accommodate the Provincial headquarters staff.

Cost of the headquarters will be approximately $50,000-$60,000 and it will contain committee rooms, a communication room, operations room, conference room, a few executive offices, clerical staff offices, washroom facilities, an emergency kitchen, and special ventilation features.

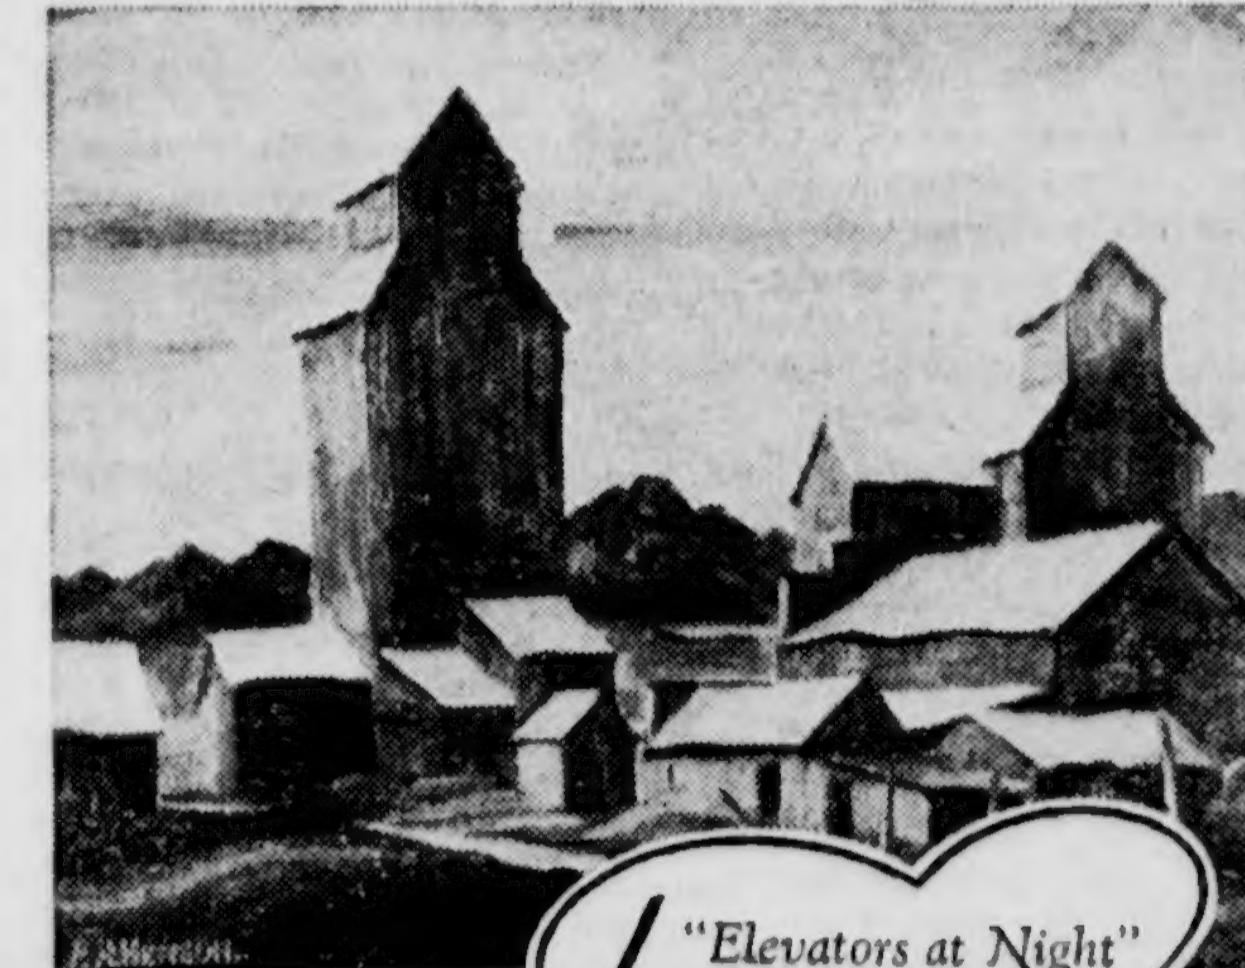

The Canadian motorist will have his 1952 cost-of-living pushed up by an all-Canadian upward adjustment in auto insurance premiums, statistics indicate. Increases will probably be announced before the end of 1951 warns The Financial Post.

The factors responsible for this affect the public liability and property damage rates most. They are:

Increased repair costs due to increased prices for parts, labor and the complex design of the modern car
Tendency of courts to award higher indemnities for property damage and personal injury.

Increased accident frequency in various areas.
Teen-age drivers.

FOR PARENTS ONLY

By Nancy Cleaver
"DISCIPLINE" or "PUNISHMENT"

"I'll punish him!" or "She'll get punished for what she has done!" How much more often parents use the word "punish" instead of "discipline"? Surely it is important that fathers and mothers look at their children's actions in the light of discipline rather than merely that of punishment.

Punishment, if effective, prevents an undesirable action from being repeated. Discipline should do more than this. It also encourages initiative. The two terms are not interchangeable. Punishment is the red "Stop!" sign. Discipline may flash either red or green "Go!" signal, as different occasions arise.

Discipline is on three levels. The parent disciplines the little child by one method or another. When the child begins to mix with playmates away from home, in addition to the parental discipline, his companions shape his actions by gang approval or disapproval. Older brothers and sisters influence the child too. The child's teacher at school also moulds the child's standards of behaviour.

But the goal of the adult is self-discipline. Parents must always keep this in mind. The child's future rests on this. So does the success of any democratic state. Good fathers and mothers want their children to grow to be responsible citizens.

What is discipline? Is it not the methods used to get a child to do or not to do certain things? Discipline begins very early. Baby specialists are pointing out to new parents that although an infant needs a routine, this may vary a little. Good management consists of a wise mixture of firmness and flexibility.

A sensible day's routine, which is usually followed, does away with much unnecessary conflict over a child disobeying commands. There is a "happy way" of doing most things. Children like to know what to expect and what is expected of them, in dressing, eating, sleeping, etc.

Every child is different. So is every parent! A method of discipline which has been extremely successful with the oldest in the family may not be so satisfactory with a second or third child.

A firm "No, no!" may prevent timid little Ann from going near mother's hot iron. But Tommy is more difficult to handle. The forbidden iron fascinates him. When mother is out of the kitchen for a minute to answer the phone, although he knows he is doing wrong, he quickly touches the hot iron. His enraged cries tell his mother that the "Law of Consequences" as world on Tommy to teach him that disobedience can be painful.

When a child is old enough to assert his will, what he wants and what mother wants at times is bound to conflict. Children can behave like "little angels" and the very same youngsters can also amaze their fond parents by their contrariness and naughtiness! Training a child calls for endless stores of patience, understanding and consistent fair treatment.

A weary mother with two or three small children is often tempted to rely on father to discipline a defiant child. "Just wait till your dad gets home from work!" she threatens.

This is a poor plan to follow. A deferred punishment is not nearly so effective as an immediate one on a child. Then too, a busy father's brief interval with his child at the end of the day should not be clouded by rehashing of wrongdoings. Both father and child need a peaceful, happy evening hour.

Our grandparents (and to some extent our parents) were not greatly troubled by the problems of discipline. Children were "to be seen and not heard." If they dared to disobey, corporal punishment probably descended on them. There was one simple rule—a naughty child was well spanked; even an older boy or girl received a "switching", for any signs of resistance against an adult's wish.

Modern parents find life with their offspring much more complex. Unquestioning obedience is not a complete end in itself. Unfortunately, the whole subject of discipline is apt to descend to a "To Spank" or "Not to Spank" battle.

There is no one rule which fits every case. But a fine understanding relationship between parent and child is of utmost importance, whatever the means used to train a boy or girl.

FIRE DESTROYS CHURCH
AT DIAMOND CITY
(Taber Times)

Fire destroyed the L.D.S. Church in Diamond City Tuesday morning last week with a loss estimated at $25,000. Insurance was carried. Few of the furnishings and equipment were saved.

Cause of the fire was not determined but it may have been an overheated stove. Church officials are making temporary arrangements for service.

The fire was noticed from the school teacherage just before 10 o'clock and it spread rapidly. Diamond City has no central water supply and while volunteer fire fighters did all they could to control the blaze, the best they could do was to keep it from spreading.

A fire truck from the Lethbridge fire department made a run to the scene but little could be done against the blaze. The frame structure housed a comparatively new set of pews, organ, piano, church library, Sunday school textbooks, etc. The ward records, fortunately, were at the home of the bishop and that of the ward clerk.

A strong wind was blowing at the time which made difficult all efforts to combat the fire. The co-operation of the Lethbridge brigade was greatly appreciated, church officials stated.

B of M Presents Statement

Something entirely new in the interpretation of bank statements has been initiated by the Bank of Montreal this week, in reporting its financial position to customers at the end of its 134th year of operations. The B of M's message, highlighting the most significant aspects of its 1951 statement, presents a striking departure from the traditional pattern of Canadian bank reports. Strongly emphasizing the personal approach, it is published as a signed statement from the local B of M branch manager, James Grant.

Headed "A Special Message from Your B of M Manager", the report is no longer a bank statement in the ordinary sense of the word but a plain-spoken review of the main features of the bank's experience throughout the past 12 months. Written in straight-forward, non-technical language and illustrated by appropriate thumbnail sketches, the report represents a further advance in the direct "grass-roots" approach pioneered by the Bank of Montreal in its annual reports for the past seven years.

In the preamble of this humanized report, the local manager makes several down-to-earth comments upon the Canadian way of living. He emphasizes that the people seem to combine stability with a go-ahead spirit and sums up the Canadian way of life in two words, "steady progress".

Total deposits at the 572 branches of the B of M across Canada now amount to a new high of $2,085,000,000 according to the message which adds that "some of this money belongs to business firms and institutions, but more than half of it is the savings of everyday people."

Loans now stand at over $616,000,000, another highest year-end figure in B of M history. This figure is indicative of the vast scale of co-operation with business and private individuals made possible through the confidence placed in the Bank of Montreal by its 1,800,000 depositors. "Farmers, fishermen, ranchers and lumbermen borrowed a great deal from us," states the report, "but we lent money to people in every walk of life and to business of every kind."

The B of M points out that its policy of working with the government, in measures "designed to combat inflation and help gear up Canada's economy for the defence program," resulted in the cutting down of many loans which it would otherwise have wished to make. But for this factor the record loan figure would have been even higher.

Assets in excess of the $2,200,000,000 mark are held by the B of M at the end of its 134th year in business. Well over $976,000,000 is held in high-grade government bonds and other public securities. These are listed in the bank's books at a figure not greater than their market value. Combined with securities representing short-term credits to industry, these investment total $1,108,000,000.

The Second Ward Men and Gleaners and Junior M Men and Gleaners met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Brandley Sunday evening for fireside. They greatly enjoyed the films shown by Warren Jones and the delicious lunch served.

EVIL ACCEPTANCE

By Joseph Lister Rutledge

Taxes are a necessary part of our organized life. We have to submit to them whether we enjoy them or not, or whether they determine that we shall enjoy a lot less of other things. But there is a point where placid acceptance of taxation ceases to be a civic virtue and becomes an outright evil. Eliminating the check the public was always supposed to have over government is all too readily assumed to be a mandate for unthinking spending.

Of course governments must have money, just as we citizens must have money. But, when we citizens are faced with unexpected demands—a hospital bill, a death in the family or even suddenly increased prices or taxation—most of us cannot hope for some source from which we may recoup. We can't look for support from anyone but ourselves and the only recourse to most of us is the simple and effective one of tightening the belt.

Our government is faced with such an emergency—the need for a sudden and vast defence expenditure. It is inevitable that some of that added need should be passed on to the public. We are able to meet these new demands because, in the process of tightening our belts, we come to learn that there are ways of doing without as well as doing with. That is a lesson that develops character, in governments as well as individuals. The government that has to sharpen its wits to make ends meet, to make a dollar do the work of two, to find alternatives and to give a second thought on if and how to spend, is a better government than the one that spends as it goes, secure in the belief that there is plenty more where that came from.

But the belief in an inexhaustible reservoir of supply has other sobering repercussions. Not the least of all these is that, among the factors of the inflation that is bedeviling our days, government spending stands first. For inflation is not a matter of price increases, as we are so ready to suppose, but of dollars that have increased out of relation to the supply of goods on which they may be spent. Government dollars are the worst offenders for, being unproductive, they do more than other dollars to broaden the gap between those dollars that may be spent and the goods available for purchase.

So, when you feel like taking credit for accepting taxation with resignation, remember what it is doing to you. The criticism of taxation is a basic safeguard of our democracy. It cannot be foregone without danger resulting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kenney motored to Brooks last week to attend to business at their farm. Mrs. Vi Meeks accompanied them.

GUIDE TO MARRIAGE (OFFICIAL)
A book which should be helpful to those contemplating marriage in any Dominion, colony or protectorate in the Commonwealth, is a blue book just published in the U.K.

The Registrar-General announces a guide to the requirements of the marriage laws in each of the territories of the Commonwealth and in the Irish Republic. The material as been contributed by the governments concerned and the book is intended to be a handy reference to the requirements of the marriage laws of each territory.

Information is given about the relevant statutes in force, the various requirements before a person is competent to marry, how the necessary notice of marriage must be given, the times and places at which marriages may take place and the person by whom they may be solemnized.

The book shows that minimum ages for marriage with parents' consent differ widely. In Tasmania it is as high as 18 for the man and 16 for the woman. In Ontario, it is 14 for both sexes. In Saskatchewan 15. New Brunswick has no statutory restrictions as to age.

In England, the minimum is 16, but in Northern Ireland and Eire, the ages are 14 for the man and 12 for the woman.

Bars to marriage within specified degrees of consanguinity and affinity number as many as 60 in Singapore. In Singapore as in Southern Rhodesia a man may marry his deceased wife's sister but a woman cannot marry her deceased husband's brother.

Eleven members of the Birthday Club met at the home of Mrs. C. T. Attwood Monday evening honoring Mrs. Attwood and Mrs. Doris Court on their birthdays.

A pleasant evening of visiting topped off by a delicious lunch was thoroughly enjoyed. The honored guests received lovely gifts.

Mrs. Leonard Rolfeon returned on Sunday from a week's trip to Edmonton to visit her husband who is working there. She also visited her sister-in-law Mrs. Enid Haas while in the capital city. Although the trip by train to Edmonton was long and tiring, not so on the way back as she had the thrill of returning by plane.

A Sunday night study class met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Jensen this week where Mrs. Dorothy Bowden presented the lesson. A delicious lunch was served by Allen.

Tim Court, Don Petrik and Reid Scoville were business visitors in Creston, B.C., over the weekend. They also visited Tim's sister, Mrs. Vern Henry in Cranbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Card, Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Kinsey motored to Great Falls for a few days this week.

WE question the use of the title "Our Future Queen" for the charming Princess who is now visiting us, declares The Financial Post. In all probability she will someday be our sovereign. But let's think of her as a Princess. To constantly refer to her as "future Queen" can really bring no pleasure to her or to any of us. For she can never be Queen while her father lives. And in days like these, this is not a pleasant reminder.

Wanted ... A Man in Raymond

With Ability to Sell

An intensive selling campaign is opening in Alberta almost immediately. A man is needed capable of handling the proposition in this district. No investment necessary, but should have good business and farm connections. An alert insurance or real estate agent or a progressive implement or automobile salesman could cash in on a handsome scale during the next few months while his regular representations are more or less dormant. He would also be offering his clientele an exceptional and eagerly sought opportunity for financial gain.
